The Chestnut Bur.

The wind cried aloud to the chestnut bur.
"Open, come open to me!"
And he bowed with his might,
Till the bur shook with fright,
But never a bit opened she.
Then the sun smiled down on the little green bur.
"Please open," he coaxed, "to me!"
And he bowed with his might,
Till the bur shook with fright,
But never a bit opened she.

Jack Frost came hurrying down the hill.
"Ho, ho, ha, ha!" laughed he,
And the bur laughed back,
Till her brown sides cracked.
And then out fell the chestnuts three.

Candle and Star.

Said the Candle to the Star,
"How very small you are!
You never can outshine
Such radiance as mine,
Because you live so far."
Said the Candle to the Star.

Said the Star, "Now wait and see
What comes to you and me.
Though I live far away,
A million years I'll stay,
But you'll forgotten be."
Said the Star, "Now wait and see."

The little Star shines on;
The Candle's light is gone;
For one is God's own plan,
The other made by man.
The Candle's light is gone;
The little Star shines on.

Lee—Branch.

A beautiful tableaux wedding took place yesterday afternoon, when Miss Annie Melville Branch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Branch, was married to Mr. Leroy Madison Lee, of this city.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. W. J. Young, of Centenary Methodist Church, at the home of the bride, No. 322 North Harrison Street. The house was canvassed and the decorations of palms and ferns carried out the color scheme of green and white. Mr. Shepherd Webb played softly throughout the ceremony.

Miss Florence Isabel Young was maid of honor, and was tastefully gowned in white silk, with a bouquet of maiden-hair ferns. Other bridesmaids were Miss Mattie G. Lee, Miss Hope A. Morgan, Miss Blaise M. Young and Miss Kate A. Hutchinson, of Staunton. They wore white wash chiffon, with green girdles and gloves, and carried white carnations. The bride wore a beautiful princess gown of white mesaline, with a Princess Louise train and yoke. Her veil was of tulle, and she carried a large bouquet of white and pink roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. W. Duncan Lee, brother of the groom, was best man. Little Misses Erna Branch and Isabel Weisger Smith were ribbon girls and were charming frocks of white chiffon with white sashes. After the ceremony there was a reception in the home of the bride from 6 to 8 o'clock. Mrs. C. M. Branch, mother of the bride, helped to receive. She wore black peau de soie with point lace berthe and violets.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee left for a Northern trip and will be at home at No. 222 North Harrison, after November 1st. Mr. Lee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Lee and is employed in the drawing room of the American Locomotive Works.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. Will Phillips, of Newark, N. J.; Mrs. Henry Hutchinson, of Staunton; Mrs. Stuart Lettier, of Newport, News; and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Daddum, of Ashland, Va.

Grove—Thomson.

Miss Elizabeth Peace Thomson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Augustus Pembroke Thomson, will be married at the Church of the Holy Spirit, Summit Point, Va., to Dr. Washington Grove, United States navy. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Andrew J. Willis at 6 o'clock this evening.

Miss Mary Scott Thomson will be maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Miss Martha Woodward Phelps, Miss Nellie Kincaid Todd, Miss Margaret Turberville Patterson, of Baltimore; Miss Lucy Naylor McDonald, Miss Annie Bertrand Cabell Moore, of Berryville, Miss Alice Carmichael Kelly, of Norfolk; Miss Augusta Connelley of Winchester, and Miss Kathryn McNeill Warburg, of Upper Marlboro, Md.

Dr. Charles Marburg, of Washington, D. C., will act as best man. Other attendants will be Dr. Louis M. Allen, of Baltimore, Md.; Mr. T. Roland Slingfield, of Baltimore; Mr. Roland Morgan, Mr. William Robinson, of Summit Point, W. Va.; Messrs. James and Paul Thomson, and Mr. L. Garnett Jordan, of Norfolk, Va.

The bride will enter with her father, by whom she will be given away. Miss Thomson is well known here, having often visited in the city, where she has won many friends by her grace of manner and attractive personality. The young couple will make their home in Boston, where the groom is on the naval hospital staff.

Among the out-of-town guests will be

ON A GIRDLE.

By EDMUND WALLER.

Another selection from this writer, with his biographical sketch, has already been printed in this series.

THAT which her slender waist confined
Shall now my joyful temples bind;
No monarch but would give his crown
His arms might do what this has done.

It was my heaven's extremest sphere,
The pale which held that lovely dear;
My joy, my grief, my hope, my love,
Did all within this circle move.

A narrow compass! and yet there
Swelt all that's good, and all that's fair!
Give me but what this ribbon bound,
Take all the rest the sun goes round!

This series began in The Times-Dispatch Sunday, October 11, 1903. One is published each day.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Todd, Mr. F. C. Singluff, Mr. F. H. Burruss, Mr. E. K. Patterson, Miss Mary Patterson, Miss Helen Taylor, Miss Nannie Childrey, Dr. Edward Field, of Norfolk; Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Carr, Miss Carter, of Washington; Mrs. Rocaquet, of New Orleans; Mrs. Edward Stevens, of Hoboken; Mrs. Holyburton, of New York; Miss Mary Berry, of Doonville, Md.; Miss Julia Grove, of Shepherdstown, W. Lewis—Hancock.

Miss Jeannette Everett Hancock, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Charles Hancock, of Keswick, Va., will be married at noon today to Mr. Minor Hollis Lewis. The ceremony will be performed at the South Plains Presbyterian Church, Keswick, Va., the Rev. J. C. Painter, of Hillsboro, Va., officiating.

The church will be beautifully decorated in ferns and flowers. The bride will enter to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Richards, and will be given away by her brother, Mr. John Hancock. She will be gowned in a white tailor-made costume, with a long coat and white hat. Her only ornaments will be a pearl and diamond ring, the gift of the groom. Her flowers will be white carnations.

—Mrs. Duff Green Porter, sister of the bride, will be matron-of-honor, and will wear a handsome gown of pale gray voile, with a violet hat, and will carry white carnations. Miss Frankie Hancock, cousin of the bride, will be first bridesmaid, and other maids will be Miss Sally Fugh and Miss Fannie Long, all of whom will wear white voile with white picture hats and carry pink carnations. Mr. Sheffield Lewis, brother of the groom, will be best man, and his other groomsmen, Messrs. John Hancock, of Hamlet, N. C.; James Johnston, of Harrisonburg, Va.; and Lewis Smith, of Washington, D. C.

After the ceremony a reception will be tendered the bride and groom at the home of Dr. Thurman.

The bridal gifts are many and handsome. The couple will tour the North, returning by water to Norfolk and Richmond, whence they will go to Harrisonburg, Va., their future home.

Among the guests who will come from a distance to the wedding will be Mr. and Mrs. D. Sheffield Lewis, father and mother of the groom; Mr. D. Sheffield Lewis, Jr., brother of the groom; Mr. John Hancock, of Hamlet, N. C.; Mr. James Johnston, of Harrisonburg, Va.; Mr. Lewis Smith, of Washington, D. C.; and Mrs. Green, the Misses Hancock, Mrs. M. C. Hatch and Miss Nan Coleman.

Lipscomb—Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Winfield S. Taylor have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Callie Emelyn, to Mr. John Bailey Lipscomb. The wedding will take place Wednesday evening, October 25th, at 6:30 o'clock, in No. 3 West Cary Street.

Blagden—Washington.

The Washington Post of Tuesday says: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Blagden left Washington on Sunday for Cedar Hill, Tenn., accompanied by Miss Grace Bell, to attend the wedding of their eldest son, Mr. Augustus Sillman Blagden, to Miss Anne Bolling Washington, daughter of former Representative and Mrs. Joseph Washington, of Tennessee.

The ceremony will take place at noon, and a special train will be run from the Union Station at Nashville to the country home of the Washingtons to convey the guests to the wedding. Miss Washington spent her childhood in Washington during her father's term in Congress. Mr. Blagden is a graduate of Yale, class of 1901, and is now making New Haven his home. Mr. and Mrs. Blagden will return to their summer home at Saranac next Saturday and not open their place, Arkyle, north of the city, until some time next month. They spent last week there preparing for the wedding and their journey.

Jackson—Cox.

The Washington Post of Tuesday has the following interesting item: The date for the wedding of Miss Eliza-

BEAUTIFUL DEBUTANTE'S FROCK.

This elaborate creation will be worn by one of the buds, and is of pink flowered silk with Val lace trimmings and a pink tulle girdle. The hat is of white chiffon, with pink crush bows of liberty satin.

Dr. Underwood Cox, daughter of Mrs. and the late Thomas C. Cox, of this city, to Mr. Stuart Wells Jackson, of New York, has been set for November 4th. The ceremony will take place in St. John's Episcopal Church at noon, and will be followed by a small reception in the home of the mother of the bride-elect on G Street. The young people will spend the coming winter in Montclair, N. J., where Mr. Jackson has many relatives and friends. Miss Cox will be given in marriage by her father, Mr. Robinson Cox, of New York. Mr. Jackson is a son of Mrs. Mary Taylor Jackson, of Richmond, Va. Miss Cox returned yesterday from a visit of some weeks in Virginia.

Sclater—Willis.

Mr. and Mrs. Larkin Willis have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Nora Isabel, to Mr. James Edward Sclater, of Charlottesville, Va. The marriage will be Tuesday, October 24th, at 4 P. M., in their country home, "Locust Dale," Madison county, Va.

Cooke—Brown.

Mr. Hugh Lansing Cooke and Miss Lillian Southall Brown were married yesterday at the residence of the bride's uncle, Mr. James W. Walker, No. 1832 Carrington Street, by Rev. R. M. Maxey. No invitations were issued, and only the immediate families were present.

To day's Weddings.

A number of interesting weddings will take place in Richmond today. Miss Alice Bertha Wagener, of No. 21 West Clay Street, will be married to Mr. William Percy Tallaferra. The ceremony will be performed this afternoon at 4 P. M., in Trinity Methodist Church.

Miss Estelle Walford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Walford, will wed Mr. Winthrop D. Gresham at 6:30 o'clock this evening. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride, No. 502 East Clay Street. No invitations have been issued in Richmond.

Mrs. Bolling Entertains.

Mrs. Thomas L. Bolling was the delightful hostess of a luncheon given yesterday in honor of Miss Grace Aylett Royall. Miss Anne Keith Royall, Miss Royall's guests, Miss Helen Warren, of Pittsburg, Pa.; Miss Henrietta McCrea, of Chicago; Miss McMullen, of Maryland; who is spending the week with Mrs. George Ben. Johnston, Miss Coles, of New York, and Miss Julie Osterloh. The occasion was as charming as a pretty group of young girls and an ideal entertainer could render it.

Military Euchre.

The military euchre party given on Monday evening, this week, at the residence of Mrs. T. A. Correll, by Captain Correll, of Company "B," was a very unique and enjoyable entertainment. A particularly attractive feature was furnished by Master Michael Crump, who gave the signals for moving by bugle calls. Mrs. Clay served the punch; Mrs. Correll, the coffee.

Among those present were Misses Mary Drake, Charlotte Miller, Jennie Taylor, Beulah Patterson, Margaret McGuire, Preston Womack, Gettie McGuire and Nellie Gordon; Messrs. Paul Balfour, R. B. Mulford, Frank Leitch, Henry McCane, W. A. Shultice and James Drake. Three tied for the prize—Misses Patterson, Womack and Gordon. Miss Gordon won. Miss Margaret McGuire won the booby.

Birthday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pollard gave a very delightful birthday party in their home on Twentieth street October 6th, in honor of their daughter, Miss Mabel Pollard, who celebrated her sixteenth birthday anniversary. The evening was pleasantly spent in music and various parlor games until a late hour, when delightful refreshments were served. Miss Pollard received many beautiful presents as tokens of love and esteem from her friends, and many happy wishes for her future long life and prosperity. Among the invited guests were Misses Minnie Burkett, Myrtle Elliott, Avia Mulder, Frank Leitch, Henry McCane, W. A. Shultice, Florence Gertelman, Lizzie Pace, Goldie Jeffries, Inez Hobson, Susie Arnold, Minnie Ford, Marie Gary, Carrie Pollard, Irene Burd, Josephine Jeffries and Veralee Lutz. I usually feel when I eat my old style breakfast. Especially is this so if I drink Grape-Nuts. For the reason that it furnishes so much satisfying, nourishing food in such small bulk. A soldier with a package of Grape-Nuts in his haversack would have a food supply adequate for several days of marching and fighting. It wouldn't take up much room, and the weight is nothing.

Milton Work Club.

At the meeting of the Milton Work Whist Club last afternoon, the highest score north and south was made by Mrs. Bland Spottwood Smith and Mrs. C. W. P. Brock; east and west, was a tie between Mrs. William R. Hecht, Mrs. Arthur P. Wilmer, Miss Ellen Ruff,

THE ARMY RATION.
A Good Suggestion From An Old Soldier.

The government has been experimenting for some years seeking a condensed food to be used by soldiers in case of emergency when the army shall cut loose from its base of supplies and eat out of its wagon trains and the troops shall carry their rations for a number of days in their haversacks. While some progress has been made the problem has not yet been solved.

A veteran from the Civil War, writing from New England, says in this connection:

"I have been using Grape-Nuts food for some time, and my liking for it increases with use. I find it extremely palatable, and not only digestible, but an aid to the digestion of other food which used to give me trouble."

"What has particularly struck me is the fact that a very small quantity of it is sufficient for an entire meal—that I really need no other food. It is my custom to begin my breakfast with two heaping tablespoonsful of Grape-Nuts with cream. By the time I have eaten that I find that my appetite has been completely satisfied. I feel the comfortable sensation of one who has breakfasted wisely and well, and while I sometimes eat a little of other things, it is more as a matter of habit than anything else. I find that I can go till noon on the two tablespoonsful of Grape-Nuts and cream alone, and what is also an important consideration, without any uncomfortable sense of fullness such as I usually feel when I eat my old style breakfast. Especially is this so if I drink Grape-Nuts with Postum Coffee with the meal, for I must confess the old kind of coffee fills me full of gas and discomfort for some hours after I drink it."

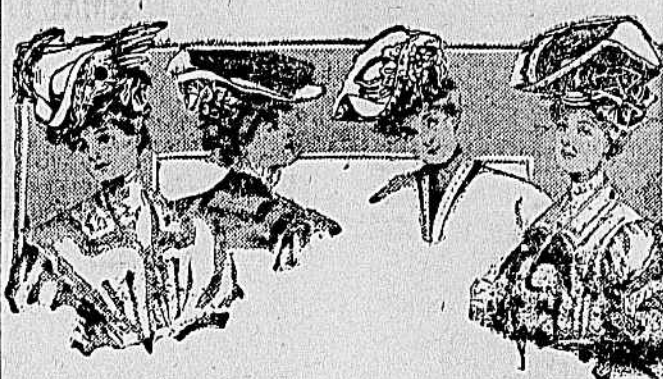

"Now it has occurred to me that Grape-Nuts food ought to be added to the army ration for the reason that it furnishes so much satisfying, nourishing food in such small bulk. A soldier with a package of Grape-Nuts in his haversack would have a food supply adequate for several days of marching and fighting. It wouldn't take up much room, and the weight is nothing."

"There's a reason."

KILLED A FINE BUCK.

Huntsman Reports Deer Plentiful in New Kent.

Mr. D. P. Bragg, proprietor of the Richmond Steam Laundry, on Seventh Street, killed a 130 pound buck in New Kent county yesterday morning. He brought his game buck to the city, and last night was exhibiting the prize.

Deer are plentiful in the county, said Mr. Bragg, when he returned. He left early yesterday morning and was back at his place of business before 5 o'clock. The buck that fell a victim to his sporting aim is one of the finest specimens seen here since the season opened.

Rally Day Exercises.

Sunday was rally day at the Fairmount Methodist Church Sunday school, and an exceedingly interesting programme was rendered. Mr. Thomas Teagle, the superintendent, presided. The school opened at the usual hour, and after preliminary exercises the programme was rendered in the presence of a large number of visiting parents and friends. The programme follows:

Singing by the school, hymn No. 109; instrumental music, piano, cornet, violin and mandolin; welcome address by Master Herbert Beck; singing by the infant class and little folks; singing by the infant class; exercise by several girls; the Feast of the Harvest, by eight girls; singing by the school, hymn No. 84; address by the pastor, Rev. R. B. Scott; a five minutes' talk by Superintendent T. J. Teagle; collection; benediction.

One of the most beautiful features of this rally day was the bringing of flowers by the scholars. The flowers were made into bouquets after the exercises and sent to all the sick of the school and church and others around. The singing of the infant class was of high order and reflected much credit to Mr. Charles Pollard, who trained the little ones.

NEGRO PREACHERS UNDER INDICTMENT

Charged With Forgery On Several Counts—Base-Ball Team.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NEWPORT NEWS, V.A., October 10.—Rev. H. W. Chiles and Rev. W. C. Lively, negro preachers, have been indicted by the grand jury for forgery on half a dozen different counts. Chiles is cut on bail and Lively is behind the bars at the city jail, where he was placed several months ago.

Chiles is pastor of one of the leading negro churches of Hampton, and is regarded as infallible by his flock. Lively was arrested on a warrant charging forgery several months ago, and soon afterwards he made statements which implicated Chiles. Various pieces of alleged forged paper were then discovered, and it is alleged that the preachers signed the names of people of this city and Hampton to each.

Late yesterday evening the grand jury in the Corporation Court returned indictments against the preachers.

Chiles is a native of Jones, congressman from the First District, who was the speaker at the first Democratic mass meeting to be held here during the campaign. The meeting will be held at the Casino Theatre Saturday night.

City Sergeant E. V. Whitstead proposes to have one of the best football teams in this section of the State this year. The boys have been hard at practice for a week, preparing for their first game with Hampton Thursday. The rival teams will meet at Riverview, and it is expected that big crowds will go from both cities to attend.
